On Monday night last, under the direction of the Social Committee of the Young People's Society, met and spent a very enjoyable evening.

Next Monday a mock trial will be in evidence. Judge, Rev. Swenson, counsel for the prosecution, Mr. J. H. Campbell; defense, Mr. Lawhew; prisoner, Mr. "Bob" Simmerman; charge, chicken stealing.

CHAUTAUQUA WAS GREAT SUCCESS IN WEYBURN, SASK.

Weyburn, a small city in Southwestern Saskatchewan, had its Chautauqua in July.

The reports in the Press of that town give a very glowing account of the delight of the people in the high class program given at the Chautauqua. Many persons who at the beginning were inclined at first to be somewhat antagonistic, during the course of the Chautauqua became convinced boosters and enthusiasts. According to the Weyburn Review "believers in the movement have undergone a complete change of conviction, skeptics have been converted, and dissentients and objectors have been won over and imbued with an appreciation that would have appeared altogether impracticable before the Chautauqua began."

While no opposition is anticipated at the Chautauqua coming to Wainwright, October 22, 23rd, worth noting that the quality of entertainment provided is such as will turn kickers into enthusiastic boosters.

"OUR DAY" OCTOBER 18th, 1917.

A Message From His Honour the Lieut. Governor, Vice Patron of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

People of Alberta, once again the British Red Cross Society have appealed to you for help.

Not alone are the needs of our sailors and soldiers to be attended to, but also those of our less fortunate Allies, Belgium, and Serbia. These numerous calls for assistance have seriously depleted the funds of the Parent Society.

The failure to obtain a liberal response to the Red Cross appeal will necessitate the restriction and curtailment of the Society's operations at the time when the needs of suffering humanity are much greater than at any previous period of the war.

Can we, for very humanity's sake, have the Red Cross work hampered for the lack of funds? Anxiously Great Britain is awaiting for the answer to this call; waiting for October 18th when in every corner of the Empire her sons will send their ringing answer back across the seas. What will the answer be of Canada? Canada who has already shown her interpretation of the glory of British citizenship? What will be the answer of Alberta? What, indeed, will be the answer of your community?

People of Alberta, do your best for "Our Day."

The indulgence of our readers is asked this week on account of a shortage of news and also the fact that shortage of newspaper compels us to use the front page columns for advertising.

MOVES HOUSE TWO THOUSAND MILES BY RAIL

Perhaps the most remarkable case of house-moving ever recorded is reported from Los Angeles, J. E. Storer, of 1763 Chavinega Avenue, Los Angeles, decided to cast in his lot in Canada. But like many another, Mr. Storer found it easy enough to acquire property in Canada, but very hard to get his money out of his holdings in his present locality. An effort was made to sell the home in Los Angeles, but without success.

Then it was that the idea developed to move the house to Canada. The house has been torn down, the various pieces being carefully marked and bundled for their shipment of almost two thousand miles to Edmonton, Alberta. The only thing left in Los Angeles is the chimney, even the drain pipes have been taken up in connection with the new house in Canada.

Many instances are recorded of the ingenuity of settlers in overcoming difficulties that stood between them and the possibilities of success afforded by the Canadian West, but the case of the Los Angeles resident who, finding that he could not sell his house, pulled it down and shipped it to Canada, it appears to be almost in a class by itself.

SAILORS TAG DAY SET FOR SATURDAY OCTOBER TWENTIETH

Saturday, October 20th, has been set apart as a Special day for the Sailors of the Dominion. The teachers and the school children have kindly consented to hold a tag day on that date in this town and trust that every man, woman and child will assist them in this very needful work, no matter what we do we will never be able to fully repay these brave men for what they have accomplished in our interests.

The Navy has done a marvelous work in connection with the present war. They have escorted our soldiers across the ocean without mishap; they have protected our coast line from invasion; they have kept the ships of the German Kaiser bottled up and the trade routes open, so that our grain and produce and general commerce has been transported to the Mother Country with very little hindrance.

Day after day, and night after night, through sunshine and storm these brave lads have stood at their posts guarding and protecting our interests, and we in turn should do all that we can to assist them. Everyone in the Province of Alberta should feel a keen interest in the cause and be willing to assist in connection with Tag Day.

Remember the date, Saturday, October 20th, and be prepared to do your bit for the sailors.

ROADS, COWS AND AUTOMOBILES.

The automobile—the farmer's automobile—has given credit for being the greatest influence in improving country roads, and there can be no doubt that when a farmer wants to get up a little speed he studies road building. But the slow-moving dairy cow has also had a lot to do with making the way to town easier.

A man who sells milk or cream goes to market frequently, usually every day, and when a bad road steals his time as often as that he gets busy with the drag, the grader, the steam roller and the steam roller. The cow's labor requirement is big and costly, and waiting it on the road cuts profits when a man and team are worth $4 to $5 a day and gasoline costs forty to forty-five cents a gallon.

ALL TO UNITED STATES.

A series of conferences between the Canadian government, Lord Reading, Lord Northcliffe and members of the British war mission, to the United States is in progress at Ottawa. Possibilities in the development of Canadian assistance to the Allied cause are to be surveyed with a view to securing the greatest possible co-ordination of effort between Great Britain, the United States and Canada. The creation of further credits here, the complicated question of exchange, full use of natural resources and an increased shipbuilding program are, it is understood, all to come under review. In view of unrestricted submarine warfare and additional call on tonnage since the entry of the United States into the war, shipbuilding facilities in Canada are increasingly important.

COLORED LEADERS.

THE COLORED PEOPLE of the United States have taken part in every war in which the Republic was engaged. The present war will differ only in the fact that the colored soldiers will have colored leaders. There is an officers training camp at Fort Des Moines which is devoted entirely to the training of negro officers. It is judged from the reports that the work and behaviour is of the highest.

A free freight policy has been adopted in connection with the transport of breeding cattle and breeding sheep. The railways will rebate twenty-five per cent. of their charges, and the government will pay the remaining 75 per cent.

Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotic and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however, by word or act must and will be repressed, as resistance to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 24 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917.

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or after January 1st, 1892. Of this class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential to the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Consideration will be given to a prohibition of conscription by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which these cases cause before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appellate Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence and persons will therefore be likely to involve themselves in more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Ottawa, September 11, 1917

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals in places where the concentration of the military is high. There will be more than one thousand such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a local Committee of Parliament, and the other by the members of the local military command. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimize the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases.

A Register will be kept in each Province, which will be used in the proclamation and to which inquiries may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sitting, and men who have sent theirs in will not be required to attend the tribunals until called to do so. Other applications should be attended personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person, at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be issued in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous

No man who reports for service will, although he may be conditionally exempted and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of more. If not all of the exemptions for exemption which may come before them. Thus no advantage will be gained by delaying or defaulting in reporting for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will sit at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right to object, will be called upon to apply for exemption, in order to have their physical fitness determined in order to allow any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical unfitness issued by these Medical Boards will be accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals when they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report to the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time to the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the offender liable to punishment, but punishment for failure to report for military service, or to report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed only by the civil authorities, officers, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but, as no personal notice can be given with the individual, it is possible that some men may not be aware of the day. It is possible that some men are situated in remote localities where the day may not be known, and it is suggested that they should be kept posted on the day.
